"MADCAP VIOLET."

In Saturday's issue will be printed the first installment of WILLIAM BLACK'S great novel "Madcap Violet," which will be continued, from week to week, until it is completed.
This is pronounced, by the best critics, one of the most powerful and brilliant of recent works of fiction.

The school book should not make any change in text books unless there is an absolute necessity for it.

It looks very much as if those soldiers' reunions in Ohio were gotten up especially for the benefit of the politicians.

The practical workings of the GROSS libel law are producing a feeling of intense disgust all over the state. It will take a brave man, indeed, to vote against its repeal at the next meeting of the legislature.

It appears that under the GROSS law any editor who holds people up to ridicule, is liable to a fine and imprisonment for so doing. The law is an infamous one, and every trial under it only makes its gross iniquity more apparent.

The water works law, passed by the last legislature, is a badly mixed up enactment. It is loosely worded, carelessly put together, and contains scarcely a clause that is not susceptible of two constructions. The council has asked the city attorney to state definitely what is the meaning of two or three sections of the law, and his task is certainly not an easy one.

The Iron Age in its last number, contains an elaborate review of the condition of the iron market. It prints a number of interviews with the leading iron men of the country, and quotes as follows "One of the most extensive manufacturers of iron in the United States, whose name would be regarded as authority."

Consumers also believe that iron must advance even more than it has. They have watched at the low prices at which it has been sold, and have been expecting higher prices for a long time. Those that believe in the advance have been planning orders to get the benefit of a still further advance in prices. "Do you think the advance will be maintained?" I think that we will maintain iron at the price we have reached now, and perhaps at a higher grade, to which it seemed destined to go. It may even go to 2.25c, and stay there. I think, however, that under the excitement iron will, in some cases, be advanced to a price that it cannot be held at, and there will be a reaction from there to cents.

It thus be seen that there is, in the decline of iron for a likelihood of a still further time, while it is a still further advance.

NEWS NOTES.

The chief of the special agents has been sent to Erie, Pa., to investigate charges against Postmaster Walker.
Secretary Sherman had a grand reception Thursday night at the residence of Deacon Richard Smith, of the Cincinnati Gazette.

The Cleveland board of trade opened their new rooms Friday night with a grand banquet, participated in by about five hundred members and citizens. Addresses were made by leading members and citizens.

The government has secured a new trial in the action against the York Street Flax Spinning Company, of Belfast, Ireland, to recover $100,000, the value of goods alleged to be forfeited through under-valuation.

Tilden has bought Graystone, the country seat, where he is now spending his summer, for $50,000, which is considered an excellent bargain. Graystone is a mile above Yonkers, on the Hudson, and sixteen from New York city.

The exercises attending the centenary of the battle of Newtown began Thursday evening at Elmhurst by an address from Erasmus Brooks. The governors of New York, Pennsylvania and Vermont were present with their staffs.

Nearly 50,000 people attended the Ohio state fair at Columbus, on Thursday. It was the largest mass of humanity ever seen upon the grounds at any one time, and the day passed without any serious accident. The displays in every department are acknowledged to be superior to those of any former year.

The New York greenbackers met in state convention at Utica Thursday.
After appointing committees on permanent organization and resolutions, the convention adjourned at about 1
a. m. until 9 o'clock Friday morning.
The sessions of the convention have been noisy beyond all precedent in New York conventions, hour after hour being passed in excited wrangling.

Soldiers' reunions are the order of the day. The blue and the gray reunion at Cambridge, O., proved to be a rather slim affair. Private Dulzell, the prime mover, did not attend until the last day. The tri-state union of veterans of the late war, from Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia, opened at Steubenville Thursday with an attendance of 10,000.
Gov. Bishop, Gen. Garfield, Ewing Rice, McCook, Hickenlooper and other notabilities were present and made speeches.

The committee on space of the Cincinnati industrial exposition give notice to those who have applied for space for exhibits, that they must wait notice that they have had space allotted them in their applications before they send any goods to the exposition, and they also notify such applicants as have been notified of space being allowed them that they must signify their acceptance of the same before August 30th, or the space will be assigned to other parties on September 1st.

Despite the decision of Collector Merritt in the case of the reapprais-ment of the invoice of velvets belonging to a large house, importers in this line of goods propose to fight the issue in the United States courts, and have engaged counsel for the battle at the judicial tribunal. Importers aver there is too much money involved in the advance of velvets to submit timely, and if the courts sustain the collector decision, the importation of velvets will have to be discontinued until a change in the tariff takes place.

At a meeting of the committee on the organization of the Tammany democracy an address to the democrats of the state of New York was adopted and ordered to be circulated throughout the state, signed by 180 members of the committee. Thirty-five members were absent from the meeting.
The address arraigns Gov. Robinson as an enemy to the party. He is accused of coalitions with republicans in removing democrats from office, working for corporations, opposing the canals, oppressing the farmers, and of physical incapacity for the office he fills.

Employees of the Belleville (Ill.) mill, 200 in number, are on a strike.
It appears that on the 1st of July the same company gave the workmen notice that all their places would be declared vacant on the 31st of July, and a few days after the mill was stopped for repairs. When these were completed the company refused to re-employ three of their number—being the president, secretary and treasurer of the local society of the amalgamated association of iron, steel and tin workers of the United States. All the men then refused to go to work, but as they could not strike without the consent of the vice president of the district, who resides in Cincinnati, they reported the case to him last Friday. He came over, and after a thorough examination of the matter, authorized a strike and the men are now out. The president of the mill company, James Waugh, says the three persons mentioned above were not re-employed because they made trouble among the workmen. If the strikers hold out other men will be procured, if possible, and the work of the mill resumed.

FOREIGN FLASHES.

The czar will arrive at Vienna on Advices from Odessa announce that all military officers there have been placed under police control. This action has provoked serious disorders, in which several policemen have been seriously beaten by soldiers. Four officers are under arrest for instigating the disturbances.

A Havana dispatch says: Two bands of insurgents have made their appearance, one in the Holguin district and another in the district of Santiago de Cuba. The band at the former place is about 100 strong, and that at the latter place is not known.

They are not headed by chiefs of any importance. Capt.-Gen. Blanco has taken energetic measures to put down the insurrection. All available troops are pursuing the insurgents.

The Russian authorities at Odessa had prepared a grand reception for Maynard, the United States minister, and the officers and crew of the United States steamer Wyoming, and ordered that public establishments should not accept any payment for expenses from the Americans. Maynard, however, was obliged to leave Odessa before the principal fête took place, in consequence of the meeting of the diplomatic body in Constantinople.

According to a dispatch received at the state department from the consul general at Berlin, the following regulations in regard to cattle imported into Hamburg from Great Britain and America went into force on the first of the present month: That cattle, before being unloaded, must be reported to the police authorities, who will, at the expense of the owners of cattle, order them unloaded and stabled in localities where there can be no contact with domestic cattle for four weeks. They shall undergo examinations by veterinary surgeons in those isolated stables. At the end of four weeks, if the cattle are pronounced free from contagious disease, they will be admitted to free traffic. Violations of these regulations are punishable with heavy fines, and in some cases imprisonment.

parties accused of the murder of Judge Chisholm in Kemper county, that state.

New York, Aug. 28.—Fifty western steers broke loose yesterday and tossed one child, wounded several horses, and did other damage before they were corralled. An unknown steer was chased through Central Park and afterwards shot at East River.

Salt Lake, Aug. 28.—The case of the executors of Brigham Young's estate who were imprisoned August 4th by Judge Borman for contempt was taken before the supreme court of the territory on a writ of certiorari and decided to-day. The order of the lower court was reversed and the prisoners discharged.

Concho, Texas, Aug. 28.—The Indians approached to a point within eight miles of the fort, and drove off all the horses of citizen Gardner. An attachment of the Tenth United States cavalry, with Sergeant Floyd's Rangers, are now in pursuit of the savages toward the staked plains. The Indians stole horses on the main Con-

San Francisco, Aug. 28.—The United States grand jury has found an indictment against E. J. Baldwin, for violating the internal revenue laws by refilling old packages with spirits without recanelling the stamps thereon, and selling them at his store in Los Angeles county. He is also charged with failing to make proper entries in his books, as ordered by law.

San Francisco, Aug. 28.—Physicians still report Kallcho improving, but as yet he cannot be considered out of danger. It is asserted that more or less pus has formed, and is still forming, around the bullet, with no way of escape, and as the hole from the surface is already blocked up, it is feared that if no outlet is found for it by natural or other channels, inflammation and blood poisoning will ensue.

Youngstown, Aug. 28.—Charles Horton, a farmer's son, aged twenty-two, living near Vienna, ten miles north of here, went out hunting today, and met Charles Perkins, and two others, wood choppers, going to dinner, who invited Horton to join them. He declined, when Perkins took hold of him to urge him. In the tussle Horton's gun was accidentally discharged, the full charge entering his left eye, killing him instantly.

Paterson, N. J., Aug. 28.—Edward Peach came to this country from England, six months ago, and obtained employment at the Mechanists' Association works. He boarded at the house of the foreman, Benjamin Atkins, and from all appearances soon fell in love with the latter's wife, an attractive woman of twenty-eight.
Peach and Mrs. Atkins have been missing for several days, also several hundred in money. It is supposed the couple have gone to England. She left three children.

Akron, O., Aug. 28.—Hiram Ketchum, an aged 21, living with his parents at Co., one bullet entered his chest twice, the right entering the head just above the eye, the other about an inch half above the first. The last undermined the brain about four inches, inflicting a fatal wound. He had been brooding over fancied slights, supposed to have been given him by a young lady to whom he was paying his attention, which is thought to be the cause of the deed.

Bocyrus, O., Aug. 28.—A twelve year old son of W. Meyers, living in the northeastern part of this county, has just died from the effects of injuries received at a road crossing the line of the Northwestern Ohio Railroad. He, in company with his brothers, was driving over the track, a week or so ago, when the wagon was struck by a wood car running backward at a rapid rate, without a warning signal, throwing the little fellow fifty-two feet. His head struck against a post, fracturing the frontal bone. His brothers were comparatively uninjured.

THE GREAT ORLEANS MASHES.

Continuation of the Thompson De-Land Scandal—Specimens of the Old Snapper's Letters to His Paramour.

(Grand Rapids Democrat.)

Mrs. DeLand is the wife of Hooker A. DeLand, who has been pressman in our office for the past eight or ten years, a most worthy and industrious man. For five years he worked like a slave, giving his earnings to the support of his wife in Europe, in order to perfect her education while he has supported their child the meantime. Great interest was taken in her by many of our citizens and contributions made toward her support.

The matter of the faithfulness of the wife and mother, and the infidelity of the reverend libertine, came to our knowledge about the time Mrs.
DeLand returned from Europe last spring, but the regard which we had for the feelings of an injured husband and sorrowing father, restrained us from giving publicity to the matter.

For days in the early spring we noticed that Mr. DeLand was laboring under some fearful excitement. Upon a Sabbath morning he opened up his heart to us, and told us of his dreadful suspicions of his wife's infidelity with Dr. Thompson. The suspicion of Mr. DeLand was so strong that in the absence of his wife he broke her trunk open and there found the damnable evidence of her guilt.

He found the letters which are referred to in the Chicago article, and these letters the writer of this article read at that time. The letters are of the most lascivious character, and show beyond question the criminal intercourse of the writer and Mrs. De Land.

Their reference is of the most indecent character possible; so much so, that it does not seem possible that they could be the production of a gifted divine, who had stood deservedly high in the estimation of the Christian world for more than a quarter of a century.

Thompson is a man of learning and an author of no mean standing. From these letters we should judge him to be just the man to seduce a woman of the type of the one in question.
Among her letters which were found in her trunk was a copy of the Bible with passages marked alluding to the basest passions of human nature.
Copies also of some of Shakespeare's plays in pamphlet form, had been specially marked for the benefit of the fallen wife and mother, which were calculated to excite her passions and love for this gay Lotario, with which were found duplicates in which the wife and mother was invited to mark such passages as expressed her feelings and desires.

Romeo and Juliet were not forgotten, and a copy of that play had been sent the lady that she might underscore the sentences which expressed the gushings and yearnings of her nature, and then to be returned to the student of theology, over which he could pour out his yearning soul.
Strange to say, the woman had kept all these damning evidences of her guilt and brought them home to her husband's house. She had pasted paper over some of the letters, thus showing that she enjoyed their perusal as sweet morsels, and reserved them for her leisure hours, when she might in her secret chamber restore them to a condition to be preserved. Mr. De-Land deserves the sympathy of the whole community, while the wife and mother can only be looked upon with pity for the weakness of poor human nature.

THOMPSON'S LETTERS.

(Cincinnati Enquirer Special.) Letters from the noted divine to his new flame breathe the warmest devotion and the most intense passion.
Subjoined are extracts from a few notes written by Dr. Thompson to his charmer:

You darling goose! What a woman you are by nature, and what a woman I could make of you if I had you in training!
See if you can fix the distinction between self-love and selfishness. Put your interests, plus, desires, gratifications, above all things else; this is always base;
but self love is simply that desire of happiness which is the basis of all human conduct. If you love me, you will communicate with me, and let me know if you do not always act in view of the greatest apparent good. The good may not be real; but it is the best, but the involuntary instinct for happiness finally decides. You think you do right because you feel that you do what is best for your happiness, but you are not really happy. Let us make it practical: If I am the tenth part of the man you think I am, I can readily believe that you would love me with great fervor.
You are this close to me, but you pose you are this abstract love for the qualities with a passionate desire to possess the person whom you fancy to be happy. You love me, because you think it would make you happy. You ought to have me, because this is right.

A vast deal of philosophy does this worthy minister infuse into his love-making, though of a mere superficial kind. Again the doctor writes: To-night I am to read my essay. Its object is to define religion—not Christian, but religion in its broadest sense. The idea is: Religion is an inner sense of obligation to an external object, which is regarded as superior in nature, position or power to ourselves, and which obligation prompts to acts of devotion or obedience with a view to please or please himself. You see this does not restrict religion to the worship of a God, personal or otherwise, nor to any form of theological dogma. It is a religion which makes no object. It should not object.

The senile lover does not hesitate to go forth at any and every opportunity. In a letter to his mistress, after a pedantic essay upon the victory of Titus, he touched lightly upon his own, thus:
And now, my own sweet love, come near to me, and let me tell you how I feel.
I feel that I am to some extent a reading teacher. Remember that that hour of consecration at Verona, when I felt that I was to some extent a reading teacher, that hour of thought and material beauty—that beauty of form, that delicacy of organization, which, in you, I believe to be more pure than that of any divinity in marble. Then read on page 100, and honey the exquisite enjoyment of life, the sense of the divine presence.

Another missive shows that the frail vocalist uses her anacronism clergyman to some advantage. The following note would suggest that the doctor had been sweet on a shopping expedition:
I could not reach you any nearer. I would not send you white, because you have been enough in your composition already. You will have guilt, unless you will tell me wholly in the face and yellow leaf. You need not write a net for me, since you have me just enough already.

I do not want to give it to the servant, and I will try again.

During much of the clandestine correspondence Dr. Thompson calls his inamorata "Goosey," and himself the Old Maid, as in the following note:
This from the Old Maid. The other day I sent some nice paper to her Goosey.
Don't you think she is too to take so much trouble? She means to take her Goosey to Bologna, Florence and Rome, but she is too young and too young to lose their charms.

The letters are as endless as they are tiresome. They came into the possession of Mr. DeLand for the reason that he was led to suspect his wife, and she was foolish enough to keep them in her trunk. An impression of the look in wax, a false key was all that was necessary to have the wife's shame blazoned before the man whom, of all others, she had most wronged. Many of the letters have had the signatures cut off, but others remain unaltered, and the chirography is identical to all. The proof of Dr. Thompson's liaison is as clear as is the identity of his mistress.
Aside from the letters, the woman's husband possesses most undoubted evidences of her shame. On one of her handboxes he found the name of "Mrs. J. P. Thompson, Westminster Place Hotel, London." Research proves her to have stopped with the doctor at several of the foreign hotels, the couple booking as man and wife. Mrs. DeLand, upon being confronted by her husband, confessed that she loved Thompson;
that she had never loved DeLand, and that she would have nothing to do with him.

The letter published in the Enquirer this morning have hitherto been seen by four persons only. Many of the facts in this and affair will for the first time be read in this paper to-day; but the fall of Dr. Thompson—a man who has hitherto borne an unblemished reputation; a clergyman whose rank has been that of the first; an author whose books have attracted the attention of the world; a gentleman of culture, manner and wealth, and one whose position on either side of the Atlantic is assured, has been looked for since the first hint of this scandal.
Until yesterday all was but suggestion. Then came the culmination.
The husband of the dishonored woman made his statement to the world, and the Enquirer has the important details of the matter in full.

Forest, O., Aug. 28.—At about noon to-day, as John Alter and wife, living on a farm two miles east of here, were coming to town with a load of grain, Mrs. Alter accidentally fell from the wagon. Being an old lady, her recovery is doubtful.

TRUTH IS MIGHTY.
As the little leavened loaf in the measure of meal, made all leaven, so truth gradually overcomes all doubt and disbelief. When Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., announced that his Favorite Prescription would positively cure the many diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women, some doubted, and continued to employ the harsh and caustic local treatment. But the mighty truth gradually became acknowledged. Thousands of ladies who had uselessly undergone untold tortures at the hands of different physicians, employed the Favorite Prescription, and speedily cured.
Many physicians now prescribe it in their practice. So sanguine is Dr.
Pierce of its power to cure, that he now sells it through druggists under a positive guarantee.

All who have used it speak of it in the highest terms. For Habitual Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Piles, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder it is without a rival. We refer to Oiler Kackocy Bitter Water, the strongest magnesium water known. A wine-glassful a dose.
For sale by all druggists.

Wicked for Clergymen.
"I believe it to be all wrong and even wicked for clergymen or other public men to be led into giving testimonials to quack doctors or vile stuffs called medicines, but when you read a testimonial made by a valuable remedy known to all, that all physicians use and trust in daily, we should freely commend it. I therefore cheerfully and heartily commend Hop-Bitters for the good they have done me and my friends, firmly believing they have no equal for family use. I will not be without them."

"You Don't Know Their Value."
They cured me of Ague, Biliousness and Kidney Complaint, as recommended. I had a half bottle left, which I used for my two little girls, whom the doctors and neighbors said could not be cured. I am confident I should have lost both of them one night if I had not had Hop Bitters in my house to use. I found they did them so much good I continued with them, and they are now well. That is why I say you do not know half the value of Hop Bitters, and do not recommend them highly enough."

"MADCAP VIOLET."

In Saturday's issue will be printed the first installment of WILLIAM BLACK'S great novel "Madcap Violet," which will be continued, from week to week, until it is completed. This is pronounced, by the best critics, one of the most powerful and brilliant of recent works of fiction.

THE school board should not make any change in text books unless there is an absolute necessity for it.

It looks very much as if those soldiers' reunions in Ohio were gotten up especially for the benefit of the politicians.

THE practical workings of the GRUBBS libel law are producing a feeling of intense disgust all over the state. It will take a brave man, indeed, to vote against its repeal at the next meeting of the legislature.

It appears that under the GRUBBS law any editor who holds people up to ridicule, is liable to a fine and imprisonment for so doing. The law is an infamous one, and every trial under it only makes its gross iniquity more apparent.

THE water works law, passed by the last legislature, is a badly mixed up enactment. It is loosely worded, carelessly put together, and contains scarcely a clause that is not susceptible of two constructions. The council has asked the city attorney to state definitely what is the meaning of two or three sections of the law, and his task is certainly not an easy one.

THE Iron Age in its last number, contains an elaborate review of the condition of the iron market. It prints a number of interviews with the leading iron men of the country, and quotes as follows "one of the most extensive manufacturers of iron in the United States, whose name would be regarded as authority."

Consumers also believe that iron must advance even more than it has. They have wondered at the low prices at which it has been sold, and have been expecting higher prices for a long time. Those that believe in the advance have been placing orders to get the benefit of a still further advance in prices. "Do you think the advance will be maintained?" I think that we will maintain iron at the price we have reached now, and perhaps at a higher figure, to which it seemed destined to go. It may even go to 2.50c, and stay there. I think, however, that under the excitement iron will, in some cases, be advanced to a price that it cannot be held at, and there will be a reaction from these extreme prices, but it will fall below no cents.

It thus be seen that there is, in the opinion of a competent judge, no likelihood of a more than a temporary decline in iron for the time being, while it is still further advanced.

NEWS NOTES.

The chief of the special agents has been sent to Erie, Pa., to investigate charges against Postmaster Walker. Secretary Sherman had a grand reception Thursday night at the residence of Deacon Richard Smith, of the Cincinnati Gazette.

The Cleveland board of trade opened their new rooms Friday night with a grand banquet, participated in by about five hundred members and citizens. Addresses were made by leading members and citizens.

The government has secured a new treaty in the action against the Yonkers Flax Spinning Company, of Belfast, Ireland, to recover $100,000, the value of goods alleged to be forfeited through under-valuation.

Tilden has bought Greystone, the country seat, where he is now spending his summer, for $50,000, which is considered an excellent bargain. Greystone is a mile above Yonkers, on the Hudson, and sixteen from New York city.

The exercises attending the centenary of the battle of Newtown began Thursday evening at Elmhurst by an address from Erasmus Brooks. The governors of New York, Pennsylvania and Vermont were present with their staffs.

Nearly 50,000 people attended the Ohio state fair at Columbus, on Thursday. It was the largest mass of humanity ever seen upon the grounds at any one time, and the day passed without any serious accident. The displays in every department are acknowledged to be superior to those of any former year.

The New York greenbackers met in state convention at Utica Thursday. After appointing committees on permanent organization and resolutions, the convention adjourned at about 1 a. m. until 9 o'clock Friday morning. The sessions of the convention have been noisy beyond all precedent in New York conventions, hour after hour being passed in excited wrangling.

Soldiers' reunions are the order of the day. The blue and the gray reunion at Cambridge, O., proved to be a rather slim affair. Private Dalzell, the prime mover, did not attend until the last day. The tri-state union of veterans of the late war, from Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia, opened at Steubenville Thursday with an attendance of 10,000. Gov. Bishop, Gen. Garfield, Ewing, Rice, McCook, Hickenlooper, and other notabilities were present and made speeches.

The committee on space of the Cincinnati industrial exposition give notice to those who have applied for space for exhibits, that they must await notice that they have had space allotted them in their applications before they send any goods to the exposition, and they also notify such applicants as have been notified of space being allowed them that they must signify their acceptance of the same before August 30th, or the space will be assigned to other parties on September 1st.

Despite the decision of Collector Merritt in the case of the reappraisal of the invoice of velvets belonging to a large house, importers in this line of goods propose to fight the issue in the United States courts, and have engaged counsel for the battle at the judicial tribunal. Importers aver there is too much money involved in the advance of velvets to submit tamely, and if the courts sustain the collector decision, the importation of velvets will have to be discontinued until a change in the tariff takes place.

At a meeting of the committee on the organization of the Tammany democracy an address to the democrats of the state of New York was adopted and ordered to be circulated throughout the state, signed by 180 members of the committee. Thirty-five members were absent from the meeting. The address arraigns Gov. Robinson as an enemy to the party. He is accused of coalition with republicans in removing democrats from office, working for corporations, opposing the canals, oppressing the farmers, and of physical incapacity for the office he fills.

Employees of the Belleville (Ill.) mill, 200 in number, are on a strike. It appears that on the 1st of July the same company gave the workmen notice that all their places would be declared vacant on the 31st of July, and a few days after the mill was stopped for repairs. When these were completed the company refused to re-employ three of their number—the president, secretary and treasurer of the local society of the amalgamated association of iron, steel and tin workers of the United States. All the men then refused to go to work, but as they could not strike without the consent of the vice president of the district, who resides in Cincinnati, they reported the case to him last Friday. He came over, and after a thorough examination of the matter, authorized a strike and the men are now out. The president of the mill company, James Waugh, says the three persons mentioned above were not re-employed because they made trouble among the workmen. If the strikers hold out other men will be procured, if possible, and the work of the mill resumed.

A Havana dispatch says: Two bands of insurgents have made their appearance, one in the Holguin district and another in the district of Santiago de Cuba. The band at the former place is about 100 strong, and that at the latter place is not known.

They are not headed by chiefs of any importance. Capt. Gen. Blanco has taken energetic measures to put down the insurrection. All available troops are pursuing the insurgents.

The Russian authorities at Odessa had prepared a grand reception for Maynard, the United States minister, and the officers and crew of the United States steamer Wyoming, and ordered that public establishments should not accept any payment for expenses from the Americans. Maynard, however, was obliged to leave Odessa before the principal fete took place, in consequence of the meeting of the diplomatic body in Constantinople.

According to a dispatch received at the state department from the consul general at Berlin, the following regulations in regard to cattle imported into Hamburg from Great Britain and America went into force on the first of the present month: That cattle, before being unloaded, must be reported to the police authorities, who will, at the expense of the owners of the animals, order them unloaded and stabled in localities where there can be no contact with domestic cattle for four weeks. They shall undergo examinations by veterinary surgeons in those isolated stables. At the end of four weeks, if the cattle are pronounced free from contagious disease, they will be admitted to free traffic. Violations of these regulations are punishable with heavy fines, and in some cases imprisonment.

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 28.—In the legislative bribery cases the grand jury, to-day, found true bills against Christian Long, Jesse Crawford, A. W. Leisnering and Dr. Shoemaker.

Cincinnati, Aug. 28.—Mrs. Chisholm and Gen. Woodford arrived here to-night and leave for Mississippi in the morning, to attend the trial of parties accused of the murder of Judge Chisholm in Kemper county, that state.

New York, Aug. 28.—Fifty western steers broke loose yesterday and tossed one child, wounded several horses, and did other damage before they were corralled. An unknown driver was chased through Central Park and afterwards shot at East River.

Salt Lake, Aug. 28.—The case of the executors of Brigham Young's estate who were imprisoned August 4th by Judge Borman for contempt was taken before the supreme court of the territory on a writ of certiorari and decided to-day. The order of the lower court was reversed and the prisoners discharged.

Concho, Texas, Aug. 28.—The Indians approached to a point within eight miles of the fort, and drove off all the horses of citizen Gardner. An attachment of the Tenth United States cavalry, with Sergeant Floyd's Rangers, are now in pursuit of the savages toward the stake plains. The Indians stole horses on the main Concho a day or two ago.

San Francisco, Aug. 28.—The United States grand jury has found an indictment against E. J. Baldwin, for violating the internal revenue laws by refilling old packages with spirits without recanting the stamps thereon, and selling them at his store in Los Angeles county. He is also charged with failing to make proper entries in his books, as ordered by law.

San Francisco, Aug. 28.—Physicians still report Kallach improving, but as yet he cannot be considered out of danger. It is asserted that more or less pus has formed, and is still forming, around the bullet, with no way of escape, and as the hole from the surface is already blocked up, it is feared that if no outlet is found for it by natural or other channels, inflammation and blood poisoning will ensue.

Youngstown, Aug. 28.—Charles Horton, a farmer's son, aged twenty-two, living near Vienna, ten miles north of here, went out hunting to-day, and met Charles Perkins, and two others, wood choppers, going to dinner, who invited Horton to join them. He declined, when Perkins took hold of him to urge him. In the scuffle Horton's gun was accidentally discharged, the full charge entering his left eye, killing him instantly.

Faterson, N. J., Aug. 28.—Edward Peach came to this country from England, six months ago, and obtained employment at the Machinists' Association. He boarded at the house of the foreman Benjamin Atkins, and from all appearances soon fell in love with the latter's wife, an attractive woman of twenty-eight. Peach and Mrs. Atkins have been missing for several days, also several hundred in money. It is supposed the couple have gone to England. She left three children.

Akron, O., Aug. 28.—Hiram Retcher, a young man, aged 21, living with his parents at Center, this county, shot himself twice, once in the right eye, the other about an inch and a half above the first. The last shot penetrated the brain about four inches, inflicting a fatal wound. He had been brooding over fancied slights, supposed to have been given him by a young lady to whom he was paying his attention, which is thought to be the cause of the deed.

Bucyrus, O., Aug. 28.—A twelve year old son of W. Meyers, living in the northeastern part of this county, has just died from the effects of injuries received at a road crossing the line of the Northwestern Ohio Railroad. He, in company with his brothers, was driving over the track, a week or so ago, when the wagon was struck by a rapid train, without a warning signal, throwing the little fellow fifty-two feet. His head struck against a post, fracturing the frontal bone. His brothers were comparatively uninjured.

THE GREAT OLDERIOAL MASHER.

Confirmation of the Thompson-De Land Scandal—Specimens of the Old Sinner's Letters to His Mistress.

THE STORY CONFIRMED.
(Grand Rapids Democrat.)

Mrs. DeLand is the wife of Hooker A. DeLand, who has been pressman in our office for the past eight or ten years, a most worthy and industrious man. For five years he worked like a slave, giving his earnings to the support of his wife, in Europe, in order to perfect her education while he has supported their child the meantime. Great interest was taken in her by many of our citizens and contributions made toward her support.

The matter of the unfaithfulness of the wife and mother, and the infidelity of the reverend libertine, came to our knowledge about the time Mrs. DeLand returned from Europe last spring, but the regard which we had for the feelings of an injured husband and sorrowing father, restrained us from giving publicity to the matter.

For days in the early spring we noticed that Mr. DeLand was laboring under some fearful excitement. Upon a Sabbath morning he opened up his heart to us, and told us of his dreadful suspicions of his wife's infidelity with Dr. Thompson. The suspicion of Mr. DeLand was so strong that in the absence of his wife he broke her trunk open and there found the damning evidence of her guilt.

He found the letters which are referred to in the Chicago article, and these letters the writer of this article read at the time. The letters are of the most loathsome character, and show beyond question the criminal intercourse of the writer and Mrs. DeLand.

Their reference is of the most indecent character possible; so much so, that it does not seem possible that they could be the production of a gifted divine, who had stood deservedly high in the estimation of the Christian world for more than a quarter of a century.

Thompson is a man of learning and an author of no mean standing. From those letters we should judge him to be just the man to seduce a woman of the type of the one in question. Among her letters which were found in her trunk was a copy of the Bible with passages marked alluding to the baser passions of human nature. Copies also of some of Shakespeare's plays in pamphlet form, had been specially marked for the benefit of the fallen wife and mother, which were calculated to excite her passions and love for this gay Lothario, with which guilt he brought her home to her wife and mother was invited to mark such passages as expressed her feelings and desires.

Romeo and Juliet were not forgotten, and a copy of that play had been sent the lady that she might understand the sentences which expressed the gushings and yearnings of her nature, and then to be returned to the student of theology, over which he could pour out his yearning soul. Strange to say, the woman had kept all these damning evidences of her guilty love, and had not destroyed them, but had kept them in her husband's house. She had pasted paper over some of the letters, thus showing that she enjoyed their perusal for her leisure hours, when she might in her secret chamber restore them to a condition to be preserved. Mr. DeLand deserves the sympathy of the whole community, while the wife and mother can only be looked upon with pity for the weakness of poor human nature.

THOMPSON'S LETTERS.

Letters from the noted divine to his new flame breathe the warmest devotion and the most intense passion. Subjoined are extracts from a few notes written by Dr. Thompson to his charming girl.

My darling goose! What a woman you are by nature, and what a woman I could make of you if I had you in training! See if you can fix the distinction between selfishness and self-interest. Your own interests, plans, desires, gratifications, above all things else—this is always base; but self-interest is the desire of happiness which is a native instinct of the human mind. Sift your motives, and see if you do not always act in view of the greatest apparent good. The good may not be real, but it is the best; but the involuntary instinct for happiness finally decides that you do what is best for your happiness, best for your deepest welfare, and I am sure you will be true to it. If I am the tenth part of the man you think I am, I can readily believe that you would love me as I love you. Suppose you are this abstract love for the qualities with a passionate desire to possess the person whom you fancy you love? Suppose, as the reward of your love, you wish to make him all your own? Do you fancy I could resist myself? You love me because it makes you happy. You want me, because you think it would make you happy. You ought to have me, and I ought to have you.

A vast deal of philosophy does this worthy minister infuse into his love-making, though of a mere superficial kind. Again the doctor writes: To-night I am to read my essay. Its object is to define religion—not Christian, Jewish or Pagan, but religion in its grandest sense. The definition I finally reach is: Religion is an inner sense of obligation to an external object, which is regarded as superior in nature, position or power to ourselves, and which obligation prompts us to devote ourselves to it with a view to please or please it. You see this does not restrict religion to the worship of a God, personal or otherwise, nor to any form of theological opinion or worship. You might make me the object. I should not object.

The senile lover does not hesitate to go forth at any and every opportunity. In a letter to his mistress, after a radiant essay upon the victory of Titus, he touched lightly upon his own, thus: And now, my own sweet love, come near to me, and read on page 162 (evidently referring to some book they had been reading together). Remember then that I am a lover, and that I am a lover through my touch you learned the delicate intention of spiritual thought, and that I am a lover through the delicacy of organization, which, in you, I believe to be more pure than that of any other woman. I read on page 160, and fancy the exquisite enjoyment when I shall impart to you the sunshine of life, the nectar of the gods!

Another missive shows that the frail vocalist uses her musical talent to some advantage. The following would suggest that the doctor had been sweet on a shopping expedition: I could not match you any nearer. I would not send blue-white, because you have blue enough in your complexion already. You can't have guilt, unless you will take me white in the face and yellow in the hair. You need not wave a net for me, sign, you have me net enough already. If she does not suit, pray give it to the servant, and I will try again.

During much of the clandestine correspondence Dr. Thompson calls his mistress "Goosey," and himself the "Old Man." As in the following note:

This from the Old Man. The other day she sent some nice paper to her Goosey. Don't you think she is nice to take her notes? She means to take her notes to Bologna, Florence and Rome, but thinks Verona and Venice will never lose their charms.

The letters are as endless as they are tiresome. They came into the possession of Mr. DeLand for the reason that he was led to suspect his wife, and she was foolish enough to keep them in her trunk. An impression of the lock in wax, the absence of Mrs. DeLand, a false key, the wife's shame blazoned before the man whom she had loved, she had most wronged. Many of the letters have had the signatures cut off, but others remain uncut, and the chirography is identical to all. The proof of Dr. Thompson's liaison is as clear as is the identity of his mistress. Aside from the letters, the woman's husband possesses the most undoubted evidences of her shame. On one of her handboxes he found the name of "Mrs. J. P. Thompson," Westminster Place Hotel, London. Research proves her to have stopped with the doctor at several of the foreign hotels, the couple booking as man and wife. Mrs. DeLand, upon being confronted by her husband, confessed that she loved Thompson; that she had never loved DeLand, and that she would have nothing to do with him.

The letters published in the Enquirer this morning have hitherto been seen by four persons only. Many of the facts in this sad affair will for the first time be read in this paper to-day; but the fall of Dr. Thompson—a man who has hitherto borne an unblemished reputation; a clergyman whose rank has been that of the first; an author whose books have attracted the attention of the world; a gentleman of culture, manner and wealth, and one whose position on either side of the Atlantic is assured, has been looked for since the first hint of this scandal. Until yesterday all was but suggestion. Then came the culmination. The husband of the dishonored woman made his statement to the world, and the Enquirer has the important details of the matter in full.

Forest, O., Aug. 28.—At about noon to-day, as John Alter and wife, living on a farm two miles east of here, were coming to town with a load of grain, Mrs. Alter accidentally fell from the wagon. Being an old lady, her recovery is doubtful.

TRUTH IS MIGHTY.

As the little leaven hid in the measure of meal, made all leaven, so truth gradually overcomes all doubt and disbelief. When Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., announced that his Favorite Prescription would positively cure the many diseases and weaknesses proper to women, some doubted, and continued to employ the harsh and caustic local treatment. But the mighty truth gradually became acknowledged. Thousands of ladies who had uselessly undergone untold tortures at the hands of different physicians, employed the Favorite Prescription, and speedily cured. Many physicians now prescribe it in their practice. So sanguine is Dr. Pierce of its power to cure, that he now sells it through druggists under a positive guarantee.

All who have used it speak of it in the highest terms. For Biliousness, Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Piles, Discharges of the Kidneys and Bladder it is without a rival. We refer to Oiler Kagoesia Bitter Water, the strongest magnesian Bitter known. A wine-glassful a dose. For sale by all druggists.

Wicked for Clergymen.

"I believe it to be all wrong and even wicked for clergymen or other public men to be led into giving testimonials to quack doctors or vilely concocted medicines. But when a really meritorious article made of valuable remedies known to all, that all physicians and all true-hearted men should freely commend it. I therefore cheerfully commend it. But the Bitters for the good they have done and my friends' hearty believing they have no equal for family use. I will not be without them."

"You Don't Know Their Value."

"They cured me of Ague, Biliousness and Kidney Complaint, as recommended. I had a half bottle left, which I used for my two little girls, whom the doctors and neighbors said could not be cured. I am confident I should have lost both of them one night if I had not had Hop Bitters in my house to use. I found they did them so much good I continued with them, and they are now well. That is why I say you do not know half the value of Hop Bitters, and do not recommend them highly enough." B. Rochester, N. Y.

Mrs. May McGowan

The Original and Leading HAIR DRESSER AND PRACTICAL WIG MAKER OF Fort Wayne.

The attention of the ladies of Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana is called to the fact that Mrs. May McGowan, of the Old STAND, No. 33 East Main Street, Wholesale and Retail Dealer in Hair, is the only person in the city who has the skill to dress and style the hair of ladies. Mrs. McGowan's work speaks for itself. She desires, however, to call attention to several important facts: 1st. She imports herself all the novelties and original styles. She does not copy from other dealers. 2nd. She introduced in this city the "Barrington Waves," "Pizzettes" and other novelties in hair goods, and is the only person making them. 3rd. She supervises all work herself, employs no apprentices, guarantees all work, and sells goods at bottom prices. The leading ladies of Fort Wayne and surrounding places are her regular customers. A full line of millinery goods always on hand. Shampooing and Hair Dressing done in the most artistic and comfortable manner. Ladies wanting anything in her line should call on or address Mrs. May McGowan, 33 East Main Street.

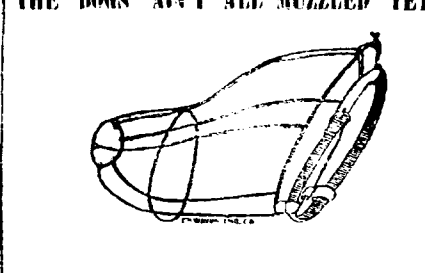

New Paint Shop

I have started a new painting establishment on the Corner of Lewis and Calhoun Streets.

Where I will be found at all times to take orders for House, Sign and Carriage PAINTING, Kalsomining and Paper Hanging.

I will guarantee to do the work as cheaply and as nicely as can be done in the city. TRY ME. C. C. HOFFMAN, 825 W. 1st St.

THE DOGS AIN'T ALL MUZZLED YET!

I have received THIS MORNING a new lot of Muzzles at low prices. G. LADE, 281 1/2 East Main Street.

off, last week, by the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of a playmate.

Miss Nellie Lichter, stepdaughter of Geo. Lahr, of Franklin, died very suddenly last Tuesday night. She ate her meals as usual, but at 10 p. m. she died. Coroner's verdict—death from natural causes.

Mrs. Johnson, a widow, aged about eighty years, was struck and run over by a train of cars in the switching yard, at Lafayette, on Thursday.

Her left arm was completely severed.

She can hardly recover.

Barney Ryder, of Plymouth, had been drunk for some time past, and took eighteen grains of morphine on Tuesday last. His condition is very critical. The reason for so doing was that his brother-in-law would not lend him $300.

Johnnie Harper, son of Geo. W.

RIVER SPORTS.

The Regatta on the St. Joe River Yesterday Afternoon.

Single Scull Races, a Tub Race and a Swimming Match.

The regatta on the St. Joe yesterday afternoon did not draw a very large crowd.

The first event was a single scull race between Chas. Prince and Joe Centlivre, which was won by Prince in 9:30, by two lengths; distance a mile and turn.

Next was a single scull race between Chas. Sorg and Geo. Kiefer, some distance; won by Kiefer in 9:29 by four lengths.

Four ambitious youths started in the tub race, but Patterson was the only fellow who finished.

The pleasure boat race, quarter of a mile, was easily won by F. Raney, there being four starters. No time given.

Jourdan won the swimming race, having but one competitor.

BREVITIES.

Wm. Tons has returned from the west.

The painters have commenced work on the city hall.

Toledo pays $86,000 yearly as interest on water works bonds.

John P. Evans has invested in a handsome new phaeton.

A large attendance is expected at the next term of the M. E. college.

Joe Centlivre will leave next week to attend school at Sandwich, Can.

Hon. A. P. Edgerton, school trustee, opposes any change in the text books.

Prof. J. F. Kinsey will open a normal musical institute next Tuesday, at Larwill.

Mrs. Harry Clark, of Toledo, was in town yesterday, en route to Peru to see a sister, who is dangerously ill.

The Berger Family and the inimitable Sol Smith Russell will appear at the Academy next Monday evening.

Mollie Nichols this morning redeemed her watch and chain at the mayor's office. It cost $45 to do the job.

Deanis Long, of Louisville, Ky., one of the most extensive pipe manufacturers in the country, is in the city.

Rev. J. Saunders Read, of St. Paul's Church, Indianapolis, will preach at Trinity (Episcopal) Church on Sunday.

A large black dog braved the dangers (?) of being shot and appeared in police court this morning. Give him a medal.

T. K. Brackenridge's funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon, instead of Sunday, as originally announced.

George Graham says he has not lost his star. He simply made a change of base, and is working for Ed Beck.

A man named Hirsch had an operation performed at the city hospital to-day. A piece of his thigh bone was removed.

Jay Phillips celebrated his twenty-seventh birthday yesterday. He will probably get over it about January 1st, 1881.

The Standard Club gave a very pleasant hop last evening; at their hall in Foster's block. Prof. Wellensted did the fiddling.

In issuing the water works bonds the mayor and clerk will have to sign their names 11,800 times. Several pen agents in town now.

John Trentman filed his official bond as city clerk to-day in the sum of $5,000, with A. C. Trentman and Henry Moring as securities.

Maj. Cooper, of Illinois, formerly of this city, who makes able temperance speeches and drinks lots of whiskey, is in town, and spoke at the Academy last night.

James Lillie was the lowest bidder for the improvement in the eastern Illinois insane asylum. His bid was $102,255. There were nine other bids, the highest being $134,691.

Pern Sentinel: Mrs. Charles P. Wise of Fort Wayne, so well known to our young people as Kittie Shoff, has sought the salubrious and mountainous air of Pennsylvania for her health.

The Redemptorist fathers who have been conducting the mission at the cathedral for the past ten days returned to their home in St. Louis to-day.

Bill Carroll and Eli Snider, of Warsaw, are in the city. As soon as Charlie Brown heard of their arrival he put his cigar boxes in the safe and burned the combination.

There was an appreciative audience at the risk last night to hear Rev. Mason and Haskell talk. Mart Cooper, the UN-reformed drunkard, insisted upon speaking and spoke to the people. Haskell treated him kindly, and, in a short prayer, most eloquently and tearfully invoked Divine aid for his wretched brother.

A committee of ladies, consisting of Mrs. A. H. Sanborn, Mrs. Thomas Cavanaugh, Mrs. Milo H. Brooks, Mrs. Dr. Todd and Mrs. Etta Francisco, has been appointed by the Reformed Men's Club to solicit funds for the temperance work now in progress in this city. It is requested that money for this purpose be given to no other person.

Our respected citizen John Frederick Jacobs died yesterday at half past 1 o'clock, of dropsy of the brain. He was born at Eldon, Prussia, January 18th, 1809. He came to this city August 28th, 1845, and carried on the painting business for many years. He was the father-in-law of William Yergens, William Ranke and John Drogemeyer. The deceased had a large acquaintance in our city and was regarded by all as a good man and citizen, and many will mourn his loss.

Where is Fred Hayes, M. D.?
P. S. O'Rourke is in Michigan.
What this country wants is rain.
Frank Alringer is on the sick list.
Charles Lancaster has been found.
Four cases at police court this morning.

Ed. Meadon, of Salem, Ia., is in the city.

Capt. Smith has taken a clean shave.

James H. Cable has returned to Lafayette.

The country schools will begin in October.

Berry street is being cleaned. It needed it.

Civil business in the justices' courts is picking up.

Robt. O. Brackenridge has returned from his tour.

James Fox is laying in his winter stock of coal.

The city hall is being painted a light drab color.

Little May Greer died this morning, aged eleven months.

The cathedral school is having some improvements made.

St. Paul's Band will give a picnic in the apple orchard on Sunday.

S. M. Patterson did not leave last night. He is on the sick list.

Tom Ellison will shortly erect a $4,000 residence in the west end.

Laura Moffat, of Toledo, is visiting her mother on Creighton avenue.

The new city bonds arrived to-day. They were printed at Indianapolis.

Gottlieb Meyer, of St. Louis, is in the city, on his way to New York.

A milk wagon came near having a runaway on Barr street this morning.

About $200 was realized by the City Hospital from the Rome City excursion.

The Fort Wayne medical college has been sued for $200, amount due on rent.

Will Cooper was the victim of a ventriloquist at Monroeville this morning.

Miss Mary Yobey has returned from a summer tour through the northern cities of the state.

Drs. Buchman and Stemen have telephonic connection. So have Messrs. Sinclair and Hanna.

Gus Strodel is hunting rabbits to-day. A pair of ferrets are the chief auxiliaries in the hunt.

Miss Laura Freer has discontinued dressmaking and accepted a position as saleslady for Root & Co.

A party of grave watchers fired at a lightning bug last night. They thought it was a body snatcher's lantern.

T. J. Tolan left to-day for Cambridge, Ill., where he is superintending the erection of a court house.

John Nieman and Wm. Bowen were fined $1 and costs each for provoking on Aug. 24 by Squire Ryan.

There have as yet no tidings been received of Cobb, the Van Wert murderer. He is evidently a slick one.

A wandering lunatic stepped into a doctor's office last evening and before he knew what the matter was he had kissed him.

And still they come. The latest arrival is at Jerome Krieger's, 114 1/2 Calhoun street. It's a boy, and weighs eight pounds.

W. H. H. Miller will shortly erect three fine brick houses to rent on East Wayne street, the total cost to be about $4,500.

The case of the state vs. Charles Lancaster, for assault and battery on May Irwin, his divorced wife, is on trial before Ryan.

Christ Newcomer's child is lying very seriously ill with an attack of brain fever. But little hope is entertained of its recovery.

Mr. L. Freiburger and family returned last evening from the eastern watering places much refreshed by reason of their vacation.

The city hospital will shortly receive an addition of a professional nurse from Boston, who will be made matron of the institution.

Mrs. Stella Powers, of Findlay, O., is in the city the guest of Miss Eckles of West Washington street. She will leave for Valparaiso in the morning.

The city civil engineer is engaged in taking cross section levels of the proposed sites for water works, to see which location is the most practicable.

The mayor this morning received a letter from a Philadelphia firm making a proposition to fund the entire city debt at a lower rate of interest than is at present paid.

Robert Stratton has removed his safe from the old office to his new quarters in the Mergel block. A derelict, a councilman and five men were called into requisition to do the job.

The City Band received their new instruments yesterday. They were manufactured by the Boston Musical Instrument Mfg. Co., and are beauties. They will give them a thorough trial to-night.

Adolph Carey lives in Frenchtown, and so does his wife. They lived together until last night, when Adolph concluded to fire his wife through the door, which he accordingly did. She in turn has filed an affidavit against him for assault and battery, in Ryan's court.

Between 2 and 5 p. m. next Sunday the Western Union telephone exchange will be connected with the telephone instruments at Warsaw, Ind., giving an opportunity for friends in either city to converse with each other. Drop your Warsaw friends a postal card to be on hand.

A pair of legal gentlemen went to interview the old gentleman to obtain his affidavit as to the age of Miss Wiemar, in the bastardy suit at Pratt's last night. The first trip didn't fetch the affidavit, but it fetched a copious shower of bricks, which the old man fired after the inquisitive gentlemen.

The second attack, reinforced by the festive Miss W., however, felled the whole business.

NEW DRESS GOODS,

NEW PRINTS & GINGHAMS,

NEW SHAWLS & CLOAKS,

New goods in every department for early fall trade now arriving daily at the Great

Department

Store.

We are giving extraordinary bargains in

at from $35 to $100, and are selling them faster than we have recently been able to get them from the manufacturers.

One great advantage of buying parlor suits of us, is that you get goods upholstered by the most skillful workmen, and not "home made" by boy apprentices. Our parlor suits come from Holton & Hildreth's and E. S. Carter & Co.'s—acknowledged by the entire furniture trade of the United States to be among the very best houses in the business. Their goods cost us a little more than those manufactured by other houses, but we are willing to pay them more, because we know we can give the most absolute guarantee to our customers on goods coming from them.

Temperance meeting at the Rink to-night. Haskell the speaker. Nuff said; there will be a crowd. Free to everybody.

Card from H. W. Bond. Having a large stock of desirable goods on hand, I have made further reductions to close them out.

While the goods on hand are desirable and needed, they are not so frequently called for as some other articles, and in order to sell them I have, as above stated, reduced the prices far below cost, and to further facilitate their sale have added a few staple goods which I will sell at a trifling advance over cost, merely to pay part of the expense of closing out the stock.

With these additions and with the goods on hand, at reduced prices, the ladies can procure greater bargains than ever before known in this city. Examine the goods and be convinced. 8,29

H. W. Bond, Novelty Store, Corner Berry and Calhoun.

The finest vocal and instrumental music at the Arion excursion next Sunday. 8,29

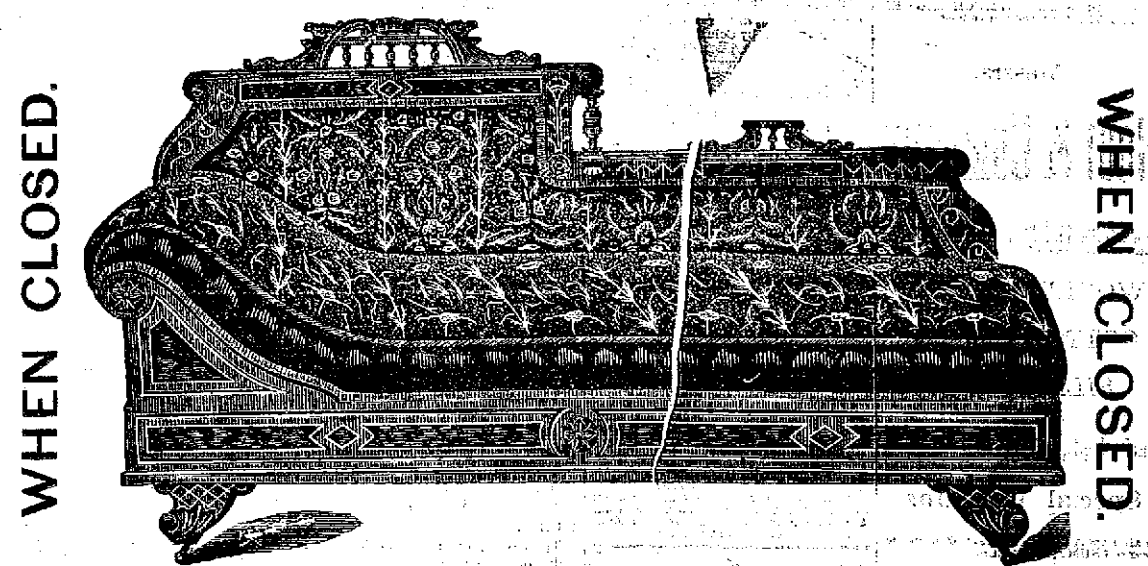

We are now ready for the fall trade and prepared to show and to sell the most attractive stock of carpets, oil cloths, window shades, etc., ever shown in this market. We offer superior advantages to buyers of these goods and guarantee as low prices as can be secured anywhere in standard and reliable goods, which are the only kinds we keep.

PARLOR

at from $35 to $100, and are selling them faster than we have recently been able to get them from the manufacturers.

One great advantage of buying parlor suits of us is, that you get goods upholstered by the most skillful workmen, and not "home made" by boy apprentices. Our parlor suits come from Holton & Hildreth's and E. S. Carter & Co.'s—acknowledged by the entire furniture trade of the United States to be among the very best houses in the business. Their goods cost us a little more than those manufactured by other houses, but we are willing to pay them more, because we can give the most absolute guarantee to our customers on goods coming from them.

Card from H. W. Bond.

Having a large stock of desirable goods on hand, I have made further reductions to close them out.

While the goods on hand are desirable and needed, they are not so frequently called for as some other articles, and in order to sell them faster, I have, as above stated, reduced the prices far below cost, and to further facilitate their sale have added a few staple goods which I will sell at a trifling advance over cost, merely to pay part of the expense of closing out the stock.

With these additions and with the goods on hand, at reduced prices, the ladies can procure greater bargains than ever before known in this city. Examine the goods and be convinced. 8,29

H. W. Bond, Novelty Store, Corner Berry and Calhoun.

The finest vocal and instrumental music at the Arion excursion next Sunday. 8,29
